Car rental site taxes possible

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus Schools Superintendent Dr. William Bedell was authorized by the board members Monday night to negotiate with the city pending efforts to impose taxes on local on-site car rental properties at the Metro Airport.

In a letter to Bedell, Matthew Raftary (director of the city assessment department) revealed that the city "is contemplating placing previously exempt car rental agencies residing at Metro Airport on the 1993 assessment roll."

Since Raftary expects the car agencies to challenge the tax change, he asked school district officials to assume 70 percent of the expected legal costs.

"If we opt to pay 70 percent of the costs, we want an equal percentage of the voice on who the attorney representing us will be," Bedell said.

However, if the school district only pays 49 percent of the legal costs, Bedell said, the city may name the attorney.

Bedell was expected to discuss the matter with Raftary yesterday.

"The car rental agencies at the airport have successfully argued that they fall under the concessionaire language," Raftary said in a letter to Bedell.

Due to the relocation of the car rental agencies to the northeast corner of the airport, all of the car rental agencies have constructed new facilities, he explained in the letter.

Fireworks, carpet bids are awarded

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus city council members accepted the lone bid of $19,980 for the purchase and installation of 840 yards of carpet tiles for the Romulus Library.

The bid presented by Floorcraft Floor Covering Inc. of Mount Clemens included the purchase and installation of the mushroom-colored carpet tiles. The cost of the tiles was listed at $17,640 and the installation was listed at $2,340.

Council members also approved a $6,000 bid for the July 4th fireworks display offered by Colonial Fireworks Co. of Clayton, Mich.

Colonial was one of three bidders.

The accepted bid calls for a 28-30 minute fireworks show featuring 551 shells.

Council members also approved a $7,544 bid to install carpeting in the Finance-Water Department and City Clerk's office areas of Romulus City Hall and selected portions of the Romulus Police Department.

The accepted bid was offered by Douglas Carpets of Belleville.

The cost breakdown was $1,980.50 for the clerk's office, $1,874.20 for the finance-water departments and $3,690 for the police department.

A three-year pest control contract was also awarded to Rose Exterminator Co. of Dearborn.

The bid calls for a $2,376 expenditure each of the three years for pest control at city hall and eight other city-owned buildings.

Incumbent proud of technology updates

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

This is the fourth of five articles highlighting backgrounds of local school board candidates and the issues they wish to discuss. The last story in the series will be published next week in The Romulus Roman.

The change in educational technology in the Romulus school district is "mindboggling", former Romulus Community School Board President and incumbent Kenneth E. Berlinn stated.

Knowing about the learning process several years ago and knowing where it will be when the current building construction effort is completed a few years from now is important to current board members, Berlinn said.

Berlinn and fellow incumbent Pat Patterson are being challenged by three opponents in the June 8th school board election.

Opponents have lashed out at past school board purchases during tough economic times and claimed that buying facsimile machines for all the board member's homes was outrageous.

Berlinn defended the purchases and said the purchase price was "cost effective" and fax units help businessmen like him keep in touch with school district officials.

Berlinn explained he is unable to be in phone contact with Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Bedell, the school administration or the various school principals during his workday at the Ford Motor Co. Woodhaven Stamping Plant.

Since his job as quality assurance inspector prevents him from receiving phone calls at work, being able to receive fax updates from the school district as many as three days a week helps him immensely.

"The fax machines are not my property," Berlinn said, "they are only to be used by board members while they serve the district. Once they leave office, the board members' fax units are to be returned to the district office".

Berlinn said that he feels that many of the technology-related seminars he has attended have been very helpful for him in the recent years. "In fact, many were paid for by vendors or potential vendors," he said.

"In my job I see a growing use of robotics and automation, and I feel that our students need to be as fully aware of computer skills as they can," Berlinn said.

Berlinn is confident his experience on the board and his computer knowledge will be a great asset to the district if he is elected to another four-year term on the board.

"Many outside the Romulus community consider us the leaders in the field of educational technology programs," Berlinn said, "and it is exciting to hear their comments after they have visited our elementary schools."

Three of the elementary schools (Barth, Wick and Hale Creek) are already fully computerized. Two elementary schools (Merriman and Cory) are awaiting building reconstruction efforts before their computerized systems can be fulfilled, he said.

The junior high and senior high are or will be soon undergoing physical updates. "That is one of the reasons we want to get the junior high construction work done as soon as we can," he said.

"By switching some of the junior high school students to Wayne County Community College for a year, we can cut the construction time here almost in half. And we will be able to add our computerized system quicker to the junior high level," Berlinn said.

"We on the school board are excited about the current changes and are thrilled by the many positive comments made about Romulus in surrounding communities and even from outside the state," Berlinn said.

Berlinn is extremely proud of his past accomplishments while on the board. "I feel very capable of continuing being a part of the board to keep us on track with our technology and remaining fiscally sound," he said.

Berlinn, 57, was appointed to fill a school board vacancy in 1981. He was elected to complete his appointed term in 1982 and then was re-elected to four-year terms in 1984 and 1988.

Last year he also was appointed to the Romulus Planning Commission as a representative of the Romulus School Board.

He has served with many school district related groups such as the Merriman Elementary School Parent Teacher Association (1975-81), Romul-

Area Council of PTAs, Concerned Parents Group, Technology Committees, Band Boosters Club, Athletic Booster Club and the Drug and Alcohol Abuse Committee.

Berlinn, who has lived in Romulus for more than 21 years, said his home is his campaign headquarters and he is serving as his own campaign treasurer. He won't stage any fund raisers for his campaign.

"I will accept endorsements from people who have considered that I have done a good job and will continue to do so," he said.

He and his wife, Rosalie, have three children, Denise, 24; Marian, 22, and Laurie, 21. All three are graduates of Romulus Senior High School.

Byron Butler of Romulus prepared "Rodney King Verdict" T-shirts recently in an effort to give local residents a peaceful way to show their displeasure with the recent Los Angeles jury decision. Butler said he too was incensed by the jury's finding, but felt Romulus area residents needed a way to air their opinions short of violence. Butler is offering the shirts for $12 each. Safety belts proven life savers

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Feature Editor

The probability of being involved in a motor-vehicle injury crash during a 75-year lifetime is about 84 percent, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

In 1990, Michigan recorded 387,180 traffic accidents where 1,185 people were killed. Only 351 were wearing seat belts.

May 8 through May 15 is Buckle Up America Week, and police departments in western Wayne County are encouraging residents to wear safety belts.

In Wayne, about 59 safety belt violations have been issued this year, according to Wayne police Lt. Keith Thomas.

"When we issue a safety belt violation, no points are involved, the individual must pay the ticket," Thomas said. "We encourage everyone to wear safety belts as a means to prevent injuries in a car accident."

Belleville police officials stated about 27 seat belt violations were issued since January. Inkster, Canton Township, Westland and Romulus police have a general idea on the number of seat belt violations issued.

"We don't have a specific number," Inkster Police Chief Terry Colwell said. "But, I know there has been a substantial amount of violations issued for not wearing safety belts."

Westland Inspector Emery Price said Westland police officers issue safety belt violations periodically. However, there hasn't been a large number given out this year.

The safety belt law for adults in Michigan was enacted in 1985. Since that time, an amendment to the law was approved in 1990 and requires children 4 years old or older must wear a safety belt in the front or rear seat. Children 1 to 4 years old must be in an approved child restraint seat in the front of the vehicle or in an approved child restraint seat or wear a safety belt in the rear of the vehicle.

Children under 1 year of age must be in a child restraint seat in the front and rear of the vehicle.

Safety belt use is continuing to increase, according to Research Data Analysis Inc. officials, a research firm in Bloomfield Hills. Results of a 1992 survey conducted by Research Data indicates about 64 percent of U.S. residents always buckle up when driving or riding in a car compared to only 19 percent in the 1984 poll.

The American auto industry plays a major role in promoting safety belt use through various advertising campaigns, according to Helen O. Petrasukas, chairwoman of Traffic Safety Now and vice president of Environmental and Safety Engineering for Ford Motor Co.

"All of us in the American auto industry feel very good about the substantial gains we've made to change opinion and behavior toward safety-belt use in this country," Petrasukas said. "We are very proud to have played such a major role toward making that happen."

When worn properly, safety belts reduce motor-vehicle deaths by 75 percent and reduce serious injuries by 66 percent.

In a March 1992 survey conducted by Traffic Safety Now officials, the following comparison was made between 1984 and 1992:

- About 85 percent of American residents said they favor safety-belt-use laws in 1992. Only 74 percent favored the safety-belt laws in 1984.

- About 85 percent of those polled disagreed that an individual can brace themselves for protection without a safety belt as long as the driver is going less than 40 miles per hour in 1992. Only 58 percent disagreed with that statement in 1984.

- About 45 percent of those surveyed said when they're a passenger in an automobile, they "suggest the driver and other passengers wear their safety belts" in 1992. Only 20 percent agreed to that statement in 1984.

- About 91 percent of those interviewed disagreed that an individual doesn't need to wear safety belts all the time, especially when going a short distance in 1992. Only 74 percent agreed with that statement in 1984.

The reason for the development of safety-belt laws in 1985 was due to the insistence of Elizabeth Dole, the U.S. secretary of transportation at the time. She encouraged the private sector to conduct an intensive effort to convince state legislators to pass safety-belt-use laws.

The American auto industry committed to a four-year program for Traffic Safety Now which was targeted to end in 1988. Through the funding from Traffic Safety Now participants, grassroots coalition was formed in all 50 states and the District of Columbia with more than 500,000 volunteers nationwide.

The collective efforts of the auto industry and coalitions helped enact belt-use laws in 42 states and the District of Columbia. The Nebraska law becomes effective Jan. 1, 1993.

"Traffic Safety Now has accomplished its mission," Petrasukas said. "We are now certain that the matter of traffic safety is in good hands through the active programs conducted within our individual companies and by other state and national organizations we've had a privilege to work with."

More than 20 Christians gathered outside Romulus City Hall last Thursday to pray for the strengthening of community life and political understanding in Romulus, the state of Michigan and the United States.

Among the participants were Rev. J.D. Landis, pastor of the Community United Methodist Church; Rev. Neil Swanger, pastor of the Ball Road Tabernacle Church; Rev. Mike McClellan and Rev. Victor Parker, both of the Romulus Wesleyan Church; and Romulus Councilman Ellis Pennington.

The prayer effort was similar to vigils at Inkster and Wayne city halls, which occurred at the same time. Throughout the country, vigils occurred as a tribute to the National Day of Prayer.

In addition to the prayer vigils at various city halls, many Christian churches were open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. for member's personal prayers.

"We have grown a little more selfish and a little more proud than the era of our forefathers and we need to turn our hearts and minds back to God," Landis said.

Swanger used various elements of the Michigan flag to highlight his prayer on the many blessings that God has bestowed on the state.

Parker mentioned that the Wesleyan Churches were many times used as safety zones for escaped slaves during the days of the Underground Railroad prior to and during the Civil War.

Parker asked God to guide future decisions made by Mayor Beverly McAnally and the city council. He also asked for a spiritual revival to be staged in Romulus.

McClellan asked the group to form a circle and hold hands as he prayed for the churches in the community. "We cannot have a strong nation, state or city without strong churches," he said.

He also asked Christians to offer a "new boldness and desire in their witness" and called out for a revival.

School board defends travel costs

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

"The number of people visiting the Romulus School District has increased dramatically in the last five months," Romulus Community School Board President Edward Wilkerson stated.

"We are proud that people from all over the country, and indeed, the world want to learn from what has been accomplished so far in our school district," Wilkerson noted in a prepared statement.

"Recently a couple (of educators) from New Zealand were among the over 400 people, who have visited the school district," Wilkerson stated. The New Zealanders said, "Romulus students are so advanced in educational technology that they will have equipment that some students will not be exposed to for many years to come."

The board president, obviously reacting to school board spending policies that have been criticized by board challengers in the current school board race, said, "Much of the success of the program was due to the school board's willingness to commit bond funds to extensive inservice training and travel for teachers, administrators, support staff and board members."

He continued, "We've had a small number of phone calls expressing concern about these expenditures. We've explained that we have been sending people throughout the country to come back and report what would be best for our district to prepare for the 21st Century."

Wilkerson cited as an example of the need for travel a visit by school board members and staff to a unique school in Port Huneme, Cal.

Romulus has adopted the California model, which is now the cornerstone of the elementary technology program, he said.

"The state of California developed Port Huneme over a 10-year period to create a model technology program. While California has done little or nothing with this program," he said, "Romulus has adopted some parts of it to become a model for the country."

School board members and employees have attended local, state and national conferences to further define the vision of the new technology, he said.

"It would have been impossible to make right and proper decisions without this travel and investigation," Wilkerson observed.

"In order to eliminate or at least minimize the probability of mistakes, the board agreed early on that all decisions had to be educated ones, based on fact, research and evaluation," Wilkerson said.

Since the successful bond election in November 1990, thousands of hours have been spent by the school board members questioning, traveling, debating and approving major changes in the school district, he said.

The district anticipates that during the next five years, "Romulus will become the focus of visitation by people from all over the world."

Then striking out at travel cost opponents, Wilkerson charged there are some, "People with limited vision who will focus on the relatively small amount of resources spent for travel and inservice."

Wilkerson concluded by stating, "Our board was determined to have the courage to try to make a difference for the education of Romulus students that would be a model for the country."

He said "no money" used for travel, workshops and conferences was taken from the general operating fund. They were however, "appropriate expenses taken from the bond money," he said.

Schools seeking technology grant

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

A proposal to apply for a $6 million federal educational grant for additional computerized equipment was approved Monday night by the members of the Romulus Community School Board.

Superintendent Dr. William Bedell told the board "Romulus is unique in the country in the degree to which we have implemented the (technology) program and facility changes planned by our community."

Bedell said board members are comfortable applying for the grant based on the community support to date of the technology program that hopefully will hike the graduation ratio at Romulus High School from the current 66 percent to 90 percent in the near future.

He presented and received approval for sending the grant proposal to the U.S. Department of Education to add more instructional technology, additional instructional software and support for staff development.

Writing bluntly in the grant proposal, Romulus school technology consultant Rich Hardt stated, "In the recent past the degree of learning in Romulus has been mediocre as measured by state and national tests. The graduation rate is only 66 percent of those who begin as freshmen."

And of those graduates only 25 percent go on to four-year higher education programs, Hardt states.

Romulus school leaders have stated that students of today do not respond well to the traditional (learning) methods and that several years ago decided to adopt a bold new "learning atmosphere" within the district, he relates.

The poor state and national scores achieved by Romulus students stated above also led the district to seek world class standards in the near future for local students, beginning first with the elementary school level.

Pointing with pride to the open support of the community past $45 million school referendum for updating local school buildings to access 21st Century style technology, Hardt's proposal acknowledged that the success in achieving the 90 percent graduation rate will be a shared responsibility between the school district and the community.

"The new uses of technology are rapidly changing the role of students in education," Hardt explains, "since the industrial age model upon which the vast majority of today's schools are based can be seen as one of the major causes of disenfranchisement by today's students."

Hardt explains that the "world class standards are already underway in Romulus elementary schools in the fields of mathematics, reading and English."

After the completion of junior high school remodeling efforts, the computerized efforts to "increase students' writing skills" will be enhanced to even a greater level "with a computer station for each student."

He stressed students at the junior high school level "will begin career exploration through a beginning tech-prep program, which involves exploration of careers involving technologies."

At the high school level students will be offered learning experiences that relate to the real world. Writing skills will be emphasized by all subject areas and all reports and papers will be produced in the writing lab.

Foreign languages will be taught in a modern "immersion" method, he stated, through the use of a video based language laboratory. Subjects like science, mathematics and business will use microcomputers...along with other appropriate peripherals to allow students to develop world class abilities in these areas.

Realizing that changes in teacher and student behavior do not merely occur when the technology equipment is turned on, Hardt stated that training updates and scheduling changes also will have to occur in the transition stages.

The new computerized educational system also hopes to cut into the 28 percent dropout rate (for grades nine through graduation) linked somewhat to a 30 percent rate of transitional students (those who move in and out of the district annually).

While there is no guarantee that the grant offering will remain active because of numerous state and federal cutbacks, school board members said it was worth the effort to seek the potential computer funds.

Rental

Most of these new facilities have been enlarged to accommodate their regional headquarters facilities, according to Raftary.

"We feel that with the five rental companies on the airport that a conservative estimate of State Equalized Valuation would be $5 million," Raftary stated in the letter.

Since the majority of the benefits of such taxation would aid the school district, he added, city officials think the schools should make up 70 percent of the level costs.

Transition team named for classroom switches

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus Junior High School Principal Jesse Meriweather has organized a transition team to help eliminate as many of the potential concerns parents and students may have about the upcoming half-day switch to Wayne County Community College this fall.

The district plans to send 300 Junior High students to morning classes at the WCCC Western Campus and another 300 in the afternoon. Lunch times will be at the junior high for both groups.

The team will include Thomas Hoss of the WCCC staff, DARE (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) officer John Smagner, Barton Malow executive Wayne Krupin and students, Sherry Clark of Hale Creek Elementary School and Becky Oleszkowicz of Wick Elementary School.

Also named were the following parents: Julie Oleszkowicz, Mollie McGlynn, Debbie Callison, Gail Milspaugh, Kristie Detroyer, Sue Evitts, Barbara Bittenbender, Sandra Tyszkiewicz, Pam Stouse, Jacke Reaume, Beverly Slone, Ron and Debbie Dick, Sandy and Dan Bussard. The group will meet at 7 p.m. May 27 at the junior high school.

In addition a sample letter that will be mailed to parents of sixth- and seventh-grade students.

The letter explained some of the reasons for the planned use of WCCC classrooms next fall-stating that to keep classes solely at the junior high school during the reconstruction period would add to the length of construction time and give students a less desirable learning environment.

Local judge speaks to Lithuanian lawyers

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

A 34th District Court judge will bring his legal expertise to Lithuania, and aid members of the parliament to draft a new constitution.

Judge William J. Szlinis, chief judge of the local district court, has been invited to address the First World Congress of Lithuanian Lawyers in Vilnius. The conference will provide the opportunity for Lithuanian attorneys from around the world to meet and discuss the practice of law in their respective countries and to assist the Lithuanian Parliament to draft a new constitution.

"We anticipate that the Lithuanians will want to learn about an accused person's rights after arrest, an area that may be unfamiliar to them," said Szlinis, who will speak on criminal law and procedure.

"It is a great honor to be invited, a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. It is also a honor for the communities served by the 34th District Court to have a representative at this historic meeting," Szlinis said.

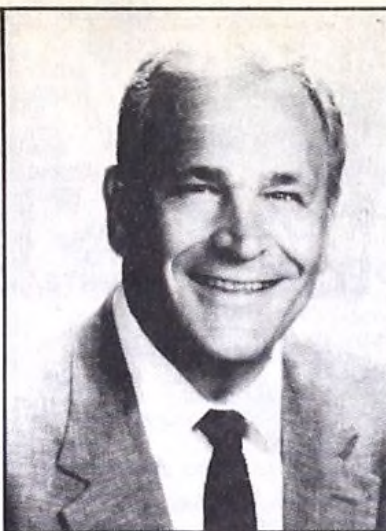

The 34th District Court covers 144 square miles that includes Van Buren Township, Sumpter Township, Huron Township, the cities of Belleville and Romulus and the Detroit Metro Airport.

Szlinis noted that the historic developments in Eastern Europe in recent months have captured the attention of the entire world. Lithuanian American Lawyers and other members of the bar have followed the events in Lithuania as that country has gained independence and moves toward democracy and a free economy.

The conference will begin with panel discussions, including the meaning of the rule of law and changes in the judicial system, in Vilnius, the capital of Lithuania. The discussions will move to Kaunas and conclude in the Baltic Sea town of Palanga where the group will break into smaller sections with American attorneys conducting small seminars in the areas of their expertise.

Lithuanian dignitaries participating in the conference will be the chairman of the parliament, minister of the interior, rector of the police academy, the public prosecutor, chief arbiter of the court of arbitration and the chairman of the college of barristers.

The arson investigator, who works primarily for insurance companies, believes Arson Awareness Week (May 3-9) is a good opportunity for people to become aware of the staggering losses incurred from arson and suspicious fires. Last year, more than $110 million in property losses were recorded in Michigan. Additional dollars in indirect costs such as medical care, temporary shelter, business interruption and fire investigation would probably boost the total by additional millions.

William Lenaghan

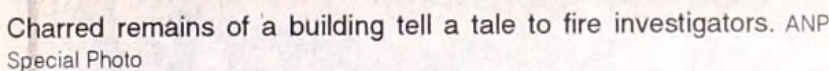

During his investigations he talks to friends, relatives and neighbors of the fire victims.

"We are seeing an increase in automobile arsons now. Cars are much more expensive than they were a few years ago. When an automobile owner finds that he owes more on his vehicle than it is worth or his transmission is broken and will cost too much to repair, the temptation to destroy it and collect the insurance sometimes occurs," the arson investigator said. "Often, the arsonist will report the car as stolen after he has set it on fire. At one time, western Wayne County was known as a dumping ground for auto-

State Bill would fund local buses

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

In an effort to give the Nankin Transit Commission financial autonomy, local lawmakers last week introduced a bill in the Michigan Senate that will keep the small bus transportation system in operation.

State senators Bill Faust (D-Westland) and George Hart (D-Dearborn), whose district also includes Inkster, have introduced Bill 907 to keep the NTC operating after June of 1992, when funding for NTC may run out.

Senate Bill 907 provides that the board of directors for Suburban Mobility Authority for Regional Transportation (SMART) will make funding the NTC a priority.

NTC was established in 1975 to provide door-to-door busing for senior citizens, the handicapped and at-risk children residing in the cities of Wayne, Westland, Inkster, Canton Township and Garden City.

During the 17-year existence of NTC, officials estimate the small buses have carried over 1.5 million passengers.

Officials also note that as many as 9,000 rides a month are presently being provided for 1,000 people in the member-communities.

Traditionally, the NTC has received a portion of its funding from SMART. However, SMART announced last summer it no longer could subsidize the local transportation system. In fact, because of its financial problems, the board of directors late last year said it is seeking to merge with the Detroit bus system.

And, without the $375,000 SMART subsidy, NTC sent a message to members that it was forced to shut down the local facility at the end of 1991. However, local officials came up with alternative funding in the form of loans from the city of Westland.

"Senate Bill 907 says that SMART needs to give the Nankin Transit Commission its fair share of federal and state transportation dollars," Faust explained. "Many people have come to rely on this bus service, and there is simply no good reason to end it now."

Faust went on to stress, "SMART needs to continue funding the NTC so that senior citizens and the handicapped can continue with their lives."

Faust, the dean of the state Senate, noted that a similar bill has been introduced in the state House. Representative William Keith (D-Garden City), whose district also includes Inkster, has introduced the duplicate measure known as House Bill 5796.

"The NTC offers a very personal service to our seniors and handicapped citizens," Faust continued. "It is an affordable bus service whose drivers will even help by doing little things like carrying a person's groceries. This is the best use of state and federal dollars because it helps people stay in their own homes and be self-sufficient."

"And it would be a tragedy if we didn't somehow continue to provide this service," the local lawmaker concluded. "I am glad to support this bill encouraging SMART to continue its funding of the NTC."

Local performers demonstrate talents

By DENNIS MANSFIELD
ANP Staff Writer

One big happy family. That's the attitude of the members of the Plymouth Theatre Guild as they prepare to close out the 1991-1992 season with Neil Simon's Brighton Beach Memoirs.

"In a lot of ways we do feel like a family," said Shirley Potter of Canton Township, a guild member for more than three years. "They are people who it is family to, single people or people who don't have any relatives in the area."

For 22-year-old Deborah Kandler, who portrays Nora Morton, the guild provided a way of introducing herself to her new community after graduating from Central Michigan University (CMU) in 1990 with a bachelor's degree in graphic design.

"I moved here and didn't know anyone," said Kandler, a Westland resident. "I wanted to meet some people and get involved."

"It's a great way to make new friends."

Playing Nora is Kandler's first major theater role, having only smaller character roles in three high school productions. Brighton Beach Memoirs is Simon's autobiographical play, giving a warm and humorous portrait of the writer as a teenager and his family in Brooklyn, NY, in 1937.

The character portraying Simon is Eugene Morris Jerome, played by Brian Hendericks of Livonia. Nora is Eugene's headstrong, energetic and bubbly older cousin whose father died, causing her mother Blanche (played by Jan Salisbury of Farmington Hills), her sister (Nicole Beaudoin of Livonia) and her to move in with her Brooklyn relatives.

"I did plays in high school, but I didn't get involved in college. I was too busy," Kandler said. "This is my first big part. It's my first big speaking part."

Kandler said she does not feel nervous about her first big role, although she does realize the challenges presented by her character, who is crying out for some fatherly direction in the crowded household.

"This show is such a funny show I want to laugh. It's my first show and it's easy for me to jump out of character," she said. "My character for the show is very energetic. So before I go on stage, I run around, jump up and down backstage. "It's such a fast paced show to work with everybody and do everything right is hard," she added.

Kandler's co-workers agree the play should be a hit with local crowds.

"I tell my friends, if there has been anything we've done this year they've liked, they'll love this," said assistant director Jan Anderson. "I'm just very pleased with how things have gone, and I usually don't say that the night of dress rehearsal."

Anderson of Canton is another example of how the theater guild is a family. Anderson's two daughters and husband have pitched in to help make the play a success. Laura, 14, has helped with the set and is a lighting apprentice, while her younger sister Amy, 11, is part of the props and backstage crew.

"They've been in theater since they were born," she said. "And my husband (Loren) helped build this set."

"I think the theater is a good atmosphere. You have people 13 and 14 working with people who are 70, and we're all friends," she said. "It's more than just doing the play, the applause - it's the relationships you build."

For Anderson, working with her fellow thespians is more than just a hobby. Anderson teaches drama at East Middle School. She said her experience with the theater guild give her new direction when motivating her students.

"Everybody here works together. I can say that to my kids. That's what theater is all about," Anderson said. "I can use my experiences in theater for examples. They respect me for that."

Brighton Beach Memoirs will end a three-week run, playing to local audiences May 15 and 16. Saturday performances will begin at 8 p.m., with Sunday performances starting at 6 p.m. Tickets cost $7 at the door and $6 in advance, with the cost $1 less for senior citizens over 62 and persons 18 and under.

Guild members will review the 1991-1992 theater season and discuss the upcoming season and their annual meeting at 7:30 p.m. May 19 at the Water Tower Theatre. The meeting is open to the public.

Deborah Kandler (top) of Westland helps set the scene of the Plymouth Theatre Guild production of Brighton Beach Memoirs with her energetic performance of Nora Morton. Jan Anderson of Canton Township plays many roles in the production, including helping her daughter and lighting assistant Laura with her homework, and then directing the action from her backstage post. School bonds restructured

ANP Staff Writer

A restructuring of school bonds currently being used to fund ongoing construction updates in the Romulus Community School District was approved by members of the school board Monday night.

Joel R. Carr, assistant superintendent for finance and operations, told the board that a restructuring of bonds including a new issue of slightly over $10 million as well as the other existing school district debts totaling more than $49 million, could save the local taxpayers from $350,000 to $400,000 during the next 30 years.

Carr said the change was recommended by the district financial consultants Stauder, Barch and Kemper Securities in light of the recent changes in interest rates.

Couple finds romance behind scenes

By DENNIS MANSFIELD
ANP Staff Writer

When one Canton Township couple speaks about the Plymouth Theatre Guild being "like family," they mean it quite literally.

Bill Potter, an engineer with Ford Motor Co., responded to a call for technical help at the community theatre and met several interesting people. One of those individuals was so interesting, in fact, that Potter married her.

"We got into this thinking it may be a way to meet people, a way to meet some girls," Potter, who is in charge of lighting design for Brighton Beach Memoirs, which is completing a three-week run May 15-16, said.

Potter met his wife, Shirley, during the guild production of Fools in 1990 and proposed on the opening night of Crimes of the Heart in February 1991. "I proposed to her over the head-sets," Potter said. "People knew. They were listening over the other sets."

The couple was married about nine months later in September. Shirley, a guild member for more than three years, is the hospitality chair in charge of concessions for the current guild production.

"It was quite a surprise and quite a pleasant one," she said. "We kind of thought it was appropriate - a couple of fools in love."

NATIONAL CENTER FOR MISSING & EXPLOITED CHILDREN

2101 Wilson Blvd. • Suite 550 • Arlington, VA 22201
703/235-3900
TDD: 1-800-826-7653

Each year, hundreds of children and young people are abducted and exploited.

Their parents and family wait anxiously day after day for word of their child who was so viciously taken from their home.

The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children is in the business of publicizing and ultimately solving these mysterious disappearances.

The Center, based in Virginia, is responsible for most of the missing children advertisements which you see on milk cartons, billboards and such.

The photographs on this page were taken from the files of the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children. They are all actively being sought by their parents, with very few leads.

These children may be living in your neighborhood, attending your church, or even sitting next to your child in school.

They are out there somewhere.

Anyone with information concerning the whereabouts of any of these children is asked to call the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children at 1-800-843-5678.

If your child is missing, call your local police department right away.

If your child is at home, hug them and tell them about the dangers of the world and teach them to be safe.

Thanks to these local businesses for sponsoring these missing children.

Busy summer in county parks

Historical re-enactments, an art show and golf classic are just a few of the activities designed to bring Wayne County residents into the parks this summer.

In addition, 6 miles of the Middle Rouge Parkway, also known as Hines Drive, will be closed to traffic every Saturday through Sept. 26 for running, walking and bicycling. The drive will be closed from Warrendale picnic area to the Nankin Mills Station from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. each Saturday. Parking is available at Warrendale, Merriman Hollow and Nankin Mills parking areas.

The Wayne County Parks Department has slated the following special summer events:

- June 6, Rouge Rescue '92, with clean-up sites throughout the parks bordering the river.
- June 7, Friends of Nankin Mills Art Show, which will benefit the restoration of the historic mill.
- June 16, 11 a.m. Mud Day at Nankin Mills, with selection of a Mr. and Ms. Mud.
- June 22 through 26, Detroit Senior Olympics at Belle Isle.
- July 4 and 5, Wayne County Air Show at Willow Run Airport, Van Buren Township, which will feature military jet demonstrations, aerobatic and skydiving teams.
- Aug. 22 and 23, Battle of Monguagon re-enactment of War of 1812 battle at Elizabeth Park, Trenton.
- Sept. 11, Friends of Wayne County Parks/Lem Barney Golf Classic at Warren Valley Golf Course.
- Noon Sept. 20, Somewhere in Time event in Elizabeth Park which is designed to recreate the late-1920 era. The event will feature antique auto displays, Dixieland bands and old-fashioned games and refreshments.

Council eyes cable coverage in future

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Feature Editor

They outta be in pictures. Wayne council members are considering cable televising council meetings in the near future.

For the next few council meetings, city officials will be experimenting with various camera angles and sound devices before the council votes on the issue, according to City Manager John Zech.

"We're in favor of cablecasting council meetings, but we would like to experiment for a month with the location of the camera," Zech said.

Recently a survey questionnaire was distributed by city officials to various communities in an effort to find out who televises their meetings, the length of the broadcasts and the percentage of viewers.

The following is a list of questions and answers regarding the survey:

- Are your city council or board of supervisor meetings televised on your local cable television, and how long have you been broadcasting the meetings? Those communities

Candidate enters race for sheriff

Wayne County Commissioner Kevin Kelley, who represents northwest Detroit and Redford Township, has announced his candidacy for Wayne County sheriff.

On Monday, Kelley filed his petitions at the office of the county clerk. His campaign officially got under way March 17, when Kelley, who chairs the Wayne County Commission Committee on Public Safety and the Judiciary, announced his candidacy.

Kelley was appointed to the board of commissioners to fill a vacancy in 1989, and was elected in a special election the following year.

During his tenure as a county commissioner, Kelley has served on the Committee on Roads, Airports and Public Service, the Special Subcommittee on Airport Noise and the Special Committee on Drains. In addition to his post as chairman of the public safety committee, Kelley also chairs the special committee on solid waste and serves on the audit committee.

- What percentage of cable-equipped households watch the meetings? Ann Arbor-20 percent regularly, Berkley-43 percent regularly, Birmingham-25 percent, East Lansing-40 percent and Farmington Hills-33 percent.

When asked what kinds of problems various communities had with broadcasting the meetings, the majority stated poor lighting, occasional technical problems, broadcast quality, volunteers, copies of tapes for legal use, line problems, starting meetings on time and sound problems.

Council members will be discussing cost estimates and other factors about cablecasting before voting on the issue.

Museum sponsors Memorial Day program

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

In observance of Memorial Day, the Yankee Air Force Museum will host an open house with free admission to the public between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. May 25.

The museum, located at Willow Run Airport off Beck Road, displays vintage aircraft and military memorabilia.

Aircraft on display include an award winning restoration of a C-47D, a "Yankee Lady" flying fortress, "Yankee Warrior" medium bomber, strato-fortress bomber, helicopter, a sabrejet and many other Korean-era jet fighters, interceptors, trainers, aircraft engines, weapons systems and aviation artifacts.

"Each year our Memorial Day observance honors our veterans, both living and deceased, and to remember their ultimate sacrifices. We believe that there is a subtle comfort to be close to the vintage aircraft which are displayed. Visiting our museum rooms with artifacts and memorabilia seems so fitting on this occasion," said Beverly Dallape, YAF public relations chairperson.

A pancake breakfast will be served between 8 a.m. and noon. Ceremonies honoring military personnel are slated at 1 p.m.

Visitors may tour the museum, a 1941 hangar which played a role in the production of nearly 8,700 B-24 Liberator bombers.

Memberships in the non-profit organization are tax-deductible. Information about joining the group is available by calling 483-4030.

Art group studied

Wayne council members are considering the formation of a city arts committee to oversee the coordination of events for the Goudy Park amphitheatre and other city functions.

Individuals serving on the committee would be appointed by Mayor Ken Warfield and the council members, according to City Manager John Zech.

"They will meet quarterly," Zech said. "It's not necessary the art committee members be residents of Wayne, but they must be interested in establishing the entertainment sector of the community."

Councilman Pat Norton suggested the council structure the responsibilities of the committee.

"Once the responsibilities are established, they should be brought back to the council in order to be reviewed," Norton said. "I suggest the mayor appoints three of the members and then each council member appoint one."

Zech said he would have a list of art committee guidelines ready for the council by May 19.

City attorney Richard Clark suggested the committee consist of nine members with terms rotating every three years.

Individuals interested serving on the arts committee should contact City Hall at 722-2000.

TRAVEL & OUTDOOR FUN

Springbrook offers relaxation

If rest and relaxation are of top priority this year, consider Springbrook Hills which is situated near beautiful Walloon Lake in northern Michigan.

Springbrook is an area ideal for small game and deer hunting, according to Joe Breidenstein, project manager for Springbrook.

"We are a year-round vacation home resort near Boyne Mountain Ski resort," Breidenstein said. "We have a fully-equipped kitchen, fireplace, deck and grill in the resort home which is surrounded by state forest land."

For the avid fishermen and women, there are several lakes nearby such as Walloon, Crooked Lakes, Lake Charlevoix and Little Traverse Bay where trout, bass, panfish and walleye are plentiful.

"We also have the Bear, Maple, Jordan or Boyne rivers for stream fishing," Breidenstein said.

In the wintertime, Springbrook Hills is ideal for snowmobiling, skiing, ice skating and warming up by a fireplace. In the summertime, Springbrook offers swimming, fishing, biking, boating and golfing.

For the shopaholics, the famous Gaslight District and Harbor Springs or Boyne City colorful downtown areas have more than 100 unique retail establishments near Springbrook.

Shops include fashions for men, women and children, art and photo galleries, country crafts, antiques, cafes, bakeries and candy shops.

"We have 52 homes in the whole development," Breidenstein said. "About 15 are occupied full time. We have accommodations for two to 200 people. The homes vary in terms of prices."

For those who just want to relax and take a long walk, Breidenstein said there are a number of nature paths in the state parks.

"We also have an out-door swimming pool and a golf-course club house," Breidenstein said.

Beaches are plentiful with dunes to climb and lake frontage which is ideal for wind-surfing.

Anyone interested in spending a relaxing vacation at Springbrook can call 616-535-2227.

savings of about 75 percent off the lowest fare, according to Bates.

"You need an adventurous spirit to be an air courier," Bates said. "But the savings is well worth the effort. At certain times of the year, couriers get round-trip tickets to the Orient for as low as $250."

Round-trip tickets for Italy, even in the peak summer season, can be as low as $200.

Sometimes the bargains can be mind-boggling, according to Bates.

"During the Gulf War, when people were afraid to fly, couriers were flying round-trip from New York to London for as low as $50, and getting triple frequent-flyer miles on Pan Am at the same time," Bates said. "Then, when they returned they had enough frequent flyer miles for a free round-trip ticket anywhere in the U.S."

Courier flights are abundant. The IAATC estimates more than 25,000 courier flights take off from different points across the U.S. each year with freelancers holding the documents.

Bates said a common misconception is a picture of a courier traveling to Hong Kong with a attache case filled with diamonds handcuffed to his wrist.

"The general public is almost never entrusted with valuables," Bates said. "What you accompany as a courier is usually pretty boring. It could be cancelled checks, mail or a replacement part for broken machinery."

Almost anyone can travel as an air courier. Basic rules require couriers to be at least 21 years old, have a valid passport and a clean-cut appearance.

Membership is available with a $35 registration fee and includes bi-monthly bulletins listing available courier flights as well as The Shoestring Traveler, a newsletter for couriers.

With 3 wins, Wayne returns to league title chase

Zebras are tied for 1st place

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Three victories last week shoved Wayne Memorial back into the Wolverine "A" Conference baseball title race.

The wins lifted coach Jim Chronowski and the Zebras to a 8-2 (104 overall) record, and they were tied with Lincoln Park for first place as the week began.

Wayne was scheduled to meet Lincoln Park and the veteran coach Tom Nolan Tuesday, before clashing with a greatly improved Belleville at Belleville tomorrow.

Sandwiched between the crucial league encounters is a game today that will decide the playoff fate for Wayne. The Zebras are scheduled to travel to Adrian to play a qualifying playoff game. The winner will advance to the pre-district competition.

"This is going to be a week that will tell us what this team is really made of," said Chronowski. "Obviously, the league title and the playoffs are at stake here."

Wayne looked in playoff form last week. Senior right-hander Scott Galeniak scattered five hits, struck out two and walked five in a 2-1 victory over Monroe.

Wayne broke a 1-all tie in their sixth when Jason Overton came through with a lead-off single, a sacrifice by Mike Martin, and Jeff Tapp's game-winning double.

Wayne scored the only other run in the second when Eric Bates singled off of loser Jason Butler, then stole second, and raced home on an infield error. The Trojans tied the game in their third.

Wayne, after tying the game in the third and edging forward to a 2-1 lead in the fifth, broke the game open with a three-run sixth. Bates accounted for two RBIs, while Galeniak finished the afternoon with a double and a single.

Wayne "mercied" Wyandotte 12-1 as officials called the game after five.

Tigers win Ann Arbor tourney title

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Bolstered by a title performance at the tough Ann Arbor Invitational last weekend, a previously unheralded Belleville will turn their sights on title-hopeful Wayne Memorial.

The two Wolverine "A" Conference baseball rivals clash 3:30 p.m. Friday at Belleville. The game may be overshadowed by the hundreds of fans who are expected to crowd into Belleville stadium to watch the Class A regional track & field championships, which Belleville will host.

However, you can bet Belleville coach John Bertz will have only Wayne on his mind.

"Just tell Wayne we're ready," said Bertz, after his Tigers captured the championship trophy by beating Milan in Ann Arbor. "This tournament has given our club the confidence it needs."

"And I know that Wayne is tough, but our kids are eager for a shot at them. You can also tell them that we're going to do our best to knock them out of first place."

Coach, those are fighting words.

The Tigers are riding the crest of a five-game winning streak into the showdown against Wayne. However, they have little and no chance of winning the conference title, while Wayne, 8-2, is on the verge of clinching at least a share.

The pressure definitely will be on Wayne.

Belleville erupted for five runs in the eighth inning to pull out a 9-4 victory over Milan and win the championship. Sophomore Jeremy Gray went the distance, whiffed 10, walked four and gave up seven hits to post the victory.

Tommy Martin, who worked 7 1/3 innings, was charged with the loss.

Martin served up a two-run double in the eighth to Chris Baker that broke the game open. Then, Kevin Ringwelski stroked an RBI single to seal it.

Inkster hurler has no-hitter

Mondo Perdue pitched his way into the Inkster High School baseball history books last week as he fired a no-hitter against Highland Park to complete a sweep of the Vikings' Suburban Athletic Conference rivals.

Perdue, who became the first Viking in this decade to record a no-hitter, humbled Highland Park 11-1 as he fanned nine and walked five for the victory. The game was called after five because of the "mercy rule". (Officials may stop the game after a team has a 10-run advantage over a rival).

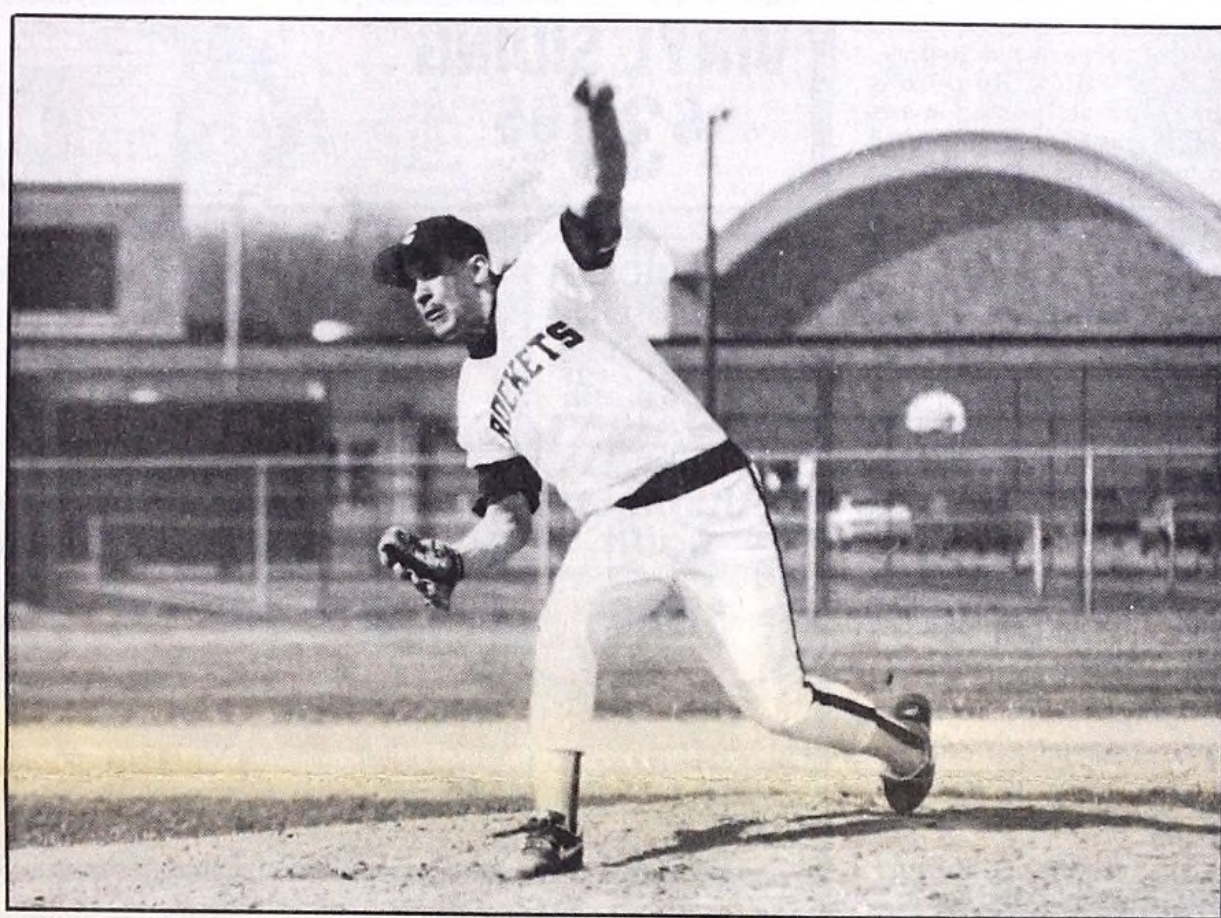

"The team is coming around," said Inkster coach Jerome Orr, whose Vikings are 2-4 in the SAC and 2-7 for the season.

Greg Lewis led an eight-hit Inkster assault on the Parkers. He collected a pair of doubles. Teammate Tracy Simmons also chipped in with two hits, one a two-bagger that counted for a pair of RBIs. Al White, the rugged 6-9 freshman cager, made his initial appearance in an Inkster uniform, and singled in a run for his initial at-bat.

Inkster rallied for four runs in the bottom of the seventh to pull out a close 9-8 decision over the Parkers in the opening game. Sophomore Ken Orr, the coach's son, got credit for the win. The sophomore right-hander posted his first victory in three starts as he tossed a one-hitter for seven-innings worked. He also collected nine strikeouts but walked five.

Simmons started the day with a pair of singles and two RBIs, and third baseman Lou Elliot knocked in three runs while Lewis finished with two hits, two RBIs and also scored twice.

Inkster is scheduled to play a twin bill with neighboring Robichaud at 4 p.m. today. The Vikings are the hosts.

Westland John Glenn pitcher Brian Bescal unleashes one of his pitches that put the Rockets on the path of a perfect five-for-five record last week. Coach Norm Hoenes' team will make its debut in playoff competition today against Ypsilanti High ANP photo by Larry Divizio

Qualifier today Rockets have a 5-for-5 week

By TERRY LYNCH
ANP Special Writer

Let the playoffs begin. Apparently Westland John Glenn is ready.

Coach Norm Hoenes and the Rockets shot down five foes last week to give them the momentum for the Class A baseball playoffs, which will get underway today for the Westlanders.

The Rockets play a state-qualifying game against the Ypsilanti Braves and the winner will advance to the pre-district.

"I would say we're ready," Hoenes commented. "The way the kids played ball last week I would say we are definitely ready."

Glenn culminated the week with a sweep of Redford Union. The Rockets shut out their non-conference rivals, 7-0, in the opener, then came back and hammered their opponents, 15-5, in the nightcap.

In game one, Chris Kirkey went the full course, holding the Panthers to just three hits. Kirkey struck out 10 batters and got ample hitting support from his teammates who erupted for seven runs in the second inning.

In that decisive inning, with bases loaded, Greg Nesbitt drilled a double to chase home the first two runs. Jaime Buford then followed with an RBI single and he later scored when Aaron Scheffer also stroked a double.

After the next batter was hit by Redford starter Brian Theiss, senior John Ward blasted a two-bagger that brought Scheffer home.

"Game two was a slugfest --for us," Hoenes said jokingly. "Wish they could all be like that. But after all the years, I know better."

Hoenes gave pitcher Greg Nesbitt the nod for the second game and the Rocket hurler worked the first six innings before he complained of a sore arm. Ward replaced him. Nesbitt had allowed five runs on six hits. Reliever Ward walked the first batter he faced, then proceeded to strike out the side.

Ward also had an excellent day at the Travel time hurts Romulus ball club

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus ball players apparently lost their hitting strength on the road to Milan Saturday afternoon on a day made for baseball.

After the Eagles clipped former South Conference rival, Ann Arbor Huron, 4-1, coach Don Foley's club were shut out by Milan's Derrick Terry, 6-0, in its final appearance in the Washtenaw County Invitational.

"I guess we just left our hitting at Willow Run," Foley said. "I can't come up with any other explanation." (The Romulus-Huron game was played on the Willow Run diamond.)

The Eagles will have little time to dwell on the loss. They are scheduled to play Ann Arbor Pioneer today at Pioneer in the qualifying round of a Class A pre-district playoff. Romulus lost to the Pioneers 6-2 earlier in the season.

Tim Dufore, who has compiled a 2-1 personal record, is scheduled to start on the mound for the Eagles.

"We're not affiliated with any league this season," Foley pointed out, "so the playoffs are important. I feel we have an excellent chance of beating Pioneer."

Dufore looked good against AA Huron. The senior right-hander tossed a five-hitter, struck out three and walked two en route to a 4-1 victory over the River Rats. Loser Tom Hack gave up six hits and was in trouble early.

In the opening inning, Hack issued a base on balls to Don Zemke, who stole second and moved to third with Chris Evans' bunt single. Dufore then stroked a RBI single to give his team a 1-0 lead. Mark Harden was struck by a wild pitch, loading the bases and John Toliver's long fly ball enabled Evans to score with the second run.

Dufore accounted for two of the six hits his team had, and the Romulus hurler who heading for a shutout gave up a single, stolen base, and a pair of groundouts and paved the way for the River Rats' sixth-inning run.

Terry was tagged for three hits, two by Dufore, and one by Ron Yount in the 6-0 Milan victory.

The third-year Romulus coach said he is pleased with the progress of his team.

Romulus seeks 'mega' league affiliation

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

The Romulus board of education Monday night gave high school officials unanimous approval to seek affiliation in the newly-formed Michigan Mega Conference.

The new conference, made up of some 20 area and local high schools, plans to be in operation in the 1992-93 school year.

Romulus dropped out of the South Central Conference at the end of the 1991 school year and officials have been seeking a new conference.

Romulus Schools Superintendent Dr. William M. Bedell recommended to the board, and the board approved, to seek affiliation with the new conference.

Athletic Director Fred Coleman had informed Gerald B. Dodd, principal at Edsel Ford (Dearborn), one of the new conference spokespersons and a member of the screening

Belleville to host regional meet

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Belleville High School officials completed renovations of the track and field in time to host one of the four Class A regional championships this weekend.

"I feel our facility is now second to none," said Belleville coach Dave Medley. "And, after our guests compete on this track, I am sure they will agree."

The school district allocated about $200,000 for the improvements, located immediately behind the high school at 501 W. Columbia.

The championships will be staged beginning at 2:30 p.m. on Friday and some 15 local and area high school teams will assemble to compete for the gold and also seek to qualify for the state finals.

"Some of the finest athletes in this area will be competing here," Medley added. "It should be a very interesting regional."

Athletes must finish first or second in their event in order to qualify for the state championships. However, an athlete also may qualify for state if their performance equals or is better than the state cutoff time or distance. Unlike past years, the athlete's qualifying time or performance must be turned in during the finals and not in a preliminary heat.

Among local teams that will be making the trip to Belleville will be Romulus, Wayne Memorial, Westland John Glenn, Plymouth-Canton and Plymouth-Salem.

The lineup also will include teams representing Ann Arbor Pioneer, Ann Arbor Huron, Brighton, Garden City, Howell, Livonia Franklin, Northville, Novi, Pinckney, South Lyon, and Ypsilanti.

Robichaud and Inkster, among the top Class B powers, will be vying for regional honors at Ypsilanti Lincoln High School.

There are 15 other teams assigned to Lincoln including: Allen Park, Divine Child, Ann Arbor, Crestwood, Detroit St. Martin DePorres, Detroit Renaissance, Grosse Ile, Melvindale, New Boston Huron, Redford Thurston, River Rouge, Riverview, Royal Oak Dondero, Willow Run and Ypsilanti Lincoln.

The state finals will be staged on May 30.

Meanwhile, Wayne Memorial handed Belleville a 70-56 Wolverine "A" Conference setback in women's track last week.

The loss dropped the Tigers' record to 2-3-1 in the league.

"It was an excellent meet and the competition was close," said Belleville coach Sam Vicchy. "They (Wayne) just had too much in the sprinting events. That was the difference in this meet."

Taira Jared accounted for two of the Tigers' five first places. Jared finished first in the 1,600-meter run (6:18.5) and the 800-meters (2:48.8). She also ran on the Belleville 3,200-meter relay that placed first. Completing the foursome were Ann Gray, Carmelita Martel, and Crystal Maciejewski, who were clocked in 11:36.0.

Gray won the 3,200 meter run in 12:34, while Sara Bowers leaped 12 feet, 6 1/2 inches for a first in the long jump.

Play madness

The annual May Madness will get underway on Friday at Belleville where about 15 local and area high school boys and girls track teams will attempt to qualify for the state championships. Two Belleville athletes who look like they have a good shot at qualifying are high jumper Michael Kendrick (above) and Curtis Lunsford, who recently set a record in the long jump. Tiger

Bertz said he was "very proud" of his team.

"We're excited about winning this tournament," the Belleville coach added. "We play to win it, and when you consider that 16 teams participated and we finished with the championship trophy, well that says a lot."

Belleville won't be able to rest the newly-discovered hitting power in playoff competition until May 21. That's when the Tigers have a pre-district (they drew a first-round bye) test at Ann Arbor Huron. The game is scheduled for the Tiger diamond at 4 p.m.

Belleville also defeated arch-rival, Ypsilanti, 7-5; Willow Run, 10-0, and Ann Arbor Huron 10-2 in the preliminary rounds of the Ann Arbor Invitational.

Stacy Keith got credit for the victory over the Ypsi Braves in relief. Marty Sacco started, but was removed for Keith after the starter have up four runs on three hits. Keith, a right-hander, was tagged for six hits, didn't walk any while striking out three in the 3 2/3 innings he worked.

Chuck Coleman had a sterling day against the Braves. He drilled a grand slam homer in the fourth with Clint Kessler, who had a leadoff single, Brian Boike and Daryl Montie, aboard. Boike and Montie got on via walks.

Coleman also hammered a leadoff homer in the fifth off of Ypsi reliever Jamie Kirian.

Kevin Ringwalski and Rick Brennan each had two hits. One of Brennan's went for a run-scoring double.

In the abbreviated 10-0 victory over Willow Run, Coleman, a junior, posted a no-hitter. It was his second no-hit gem of the 1992 campaign. He shot down seven Flyers and walked four in his latest outing.

Belleville carded 12 hits and was flawless on defense. Baker had two of the 12 hits for the team.

Junior southpaw Clint Hessler subdued Ann Arbor Huron 10-2 as he notched six strikeouts, walked two in a three-hit pitching performance.

Boike strung together three singles, and batted in two runs. Baker also contributed two hits and three RBIs.

plate. He finished with four hits in five trips, including a solo homer in the seventh.

Buford chipped in with three runs batted in, while Martin Potter added two and Tayo Farley accounted for four RBIs.

Redford started early with one in the first, but Glenn replied with three in the second, four runs in the third, then capped that off with two more in the fourth and five in the sixth.

Theiss took his frustrations out on Nesbitt, connecting for a roundtripper in the fourth. The sweep followed a Glenn triumph over North Farmington. The Rockets buried the Raiders, 7-0, as Scheffer twirled a three-hitter while fanning seven for the victory.

Glenn managed nine hits off of starter and loser Mark Temple. Temple had his problems with Greg Tarnus, who had a perfect three-for-three day. Mike Bent and Martin Potter each collected two hits in three trips.

The victory over North Farmington closed out the 1992 conference campaign for the Rockets. Despite the loss, North managed to win the league title as co-leader Walled Lake was also an upset victim.

Earlier in the week, Kirkey gathered goose eggs and blanked Livonia Stevenson, 2-0. The Glenn hurler scattered two hits against the Spartans, while loser Craig Brivih found himself in trouble early and couldn't dig himself out of it.

Glenn's successful week started with a 2-1 victory over Farmington as Ward fired a six-hitter at his divisional foes. He also notched 12 strikeouts.

However, Farmington drew blood first, scoring their only run in the second. Then, Ward opened the fourth with a single. He stole second and was driven home with the tying run by Farley.

Neither team managed to tilt the scoreboard again in regulation play. They were forced to work overtime and it paid off for the Rockets. Scheffer came up with the big hit when he singled home Farley with the tie-breaker.

Glenn was scheduled to play the Western Conference fourth-place team Monday to begin the conference playoff series.

committee, that "the Romulus Community Schools are definitely interested in obtaining more information on the Mega Conference."

Coleman's letter goes on to state that "the need for solid competition, less travel time on school nights and the formation of solid, healthy geographical rivalries makes affiliating with the Michigan Mega Conference a realistic choice for Romulus Community Schools' athletic program."

Coleman said that the school district is presently in the midst of a massive construction program. New tennis courts, a new lighted baseball field, softball field and a 2500 seat fieldhouse are set for the high school site, while the junior high site will see the development of a new soccer field.

Coleman's letter concluded: "We sincerely hope to hear from you soon regarding our future with your conference, as scheduling for our programs is something that cannot wait until the last moment as you are well aware."
